MASS MEETING CITY PROPERTY HOLDERS HELD

A. C. Carr Presides At Meeting—Matters Relating To Street Construction Discussed—No Action Taken

MAYOR AND COUNCILMEN NOT PRESENT AT MASS MEETING

Contending that streets now being constructed in Middlesboro are of poor quality and that the matter should be brought to the attention of the city authorities at once, a number of property owners expressed themselves freely at the mass meeting at the city hall last night. The meeting over which A. C. Carr presided adjourned without any action being taken.

A. H. Rennebaum started off the discussion by stating that there was apparently no way of finding out who is responsible for the specifications by which the streets are being constructed. The tearing up of the old streets is unnecessary, he stated, particularly the streets which have long had solid bases.

W. E. Gann who seemed to know a great deal about streets and materials said that, in his opinion, there was not much use to make any kick now after the contract has been let, that nothing can be accomplished by it.

J. M. Rogan, Dr. Jacob Schultze and A. C. Carr also took part in the discussion. The general opinion seemed to be that concrete bases are not as serviceable as macadam and that concrete streets are better, in most cases, than those made of asphalt.

All who said anything on the subject seemed willing to pay for the streets, but most of them were of the opinion that they are not getting the full value for their money. All seemed reluctant to do anything that will act as a barrier to the progress of the work.

Neither the mayor nor any members of the city council were present. Some property owners present expressed regret that these did not come for there were many things about the recent ordinances that they did not understand.

Mention was made of an ordinance recently passed by the council which provides additional specifications for street improvements. Obviously they did not understand the ordinance. It provides that:

"In the construction of concrete bases the same shall be of 1-3-6 mix, commonly known as Class 'C' concrete, and shall be six inches in thickness unless otherwise specified and shall be of one part by volume of cement, three parts of volume of sand and six parts by volume of crushed stone or washed river gravel or slag equal to Middlesboro furnace slag."

It further provides that the stone or gravel shall be sound, hard, durable limestone or washed river gravel of such dimensions as to pass a two-inch ring and be retained on a one-fourth inch ring, all dust to be screened out. Work may be varied or altered after it has been begun if this is necessary, the ordinance states.

Some men present last night favored stating their views in the form of resolutions and submitting same to city officials. Others were of the opinion that no beneficial results could be obtained by this.

The meeting amounted to little more than an informal discussion.

Specifications by which the Middlesboro streets are being constructed have been approved by the state as being up to the standard; in fact, the city copied almost literally the standard state specifications, according to the statement of an official this morning.

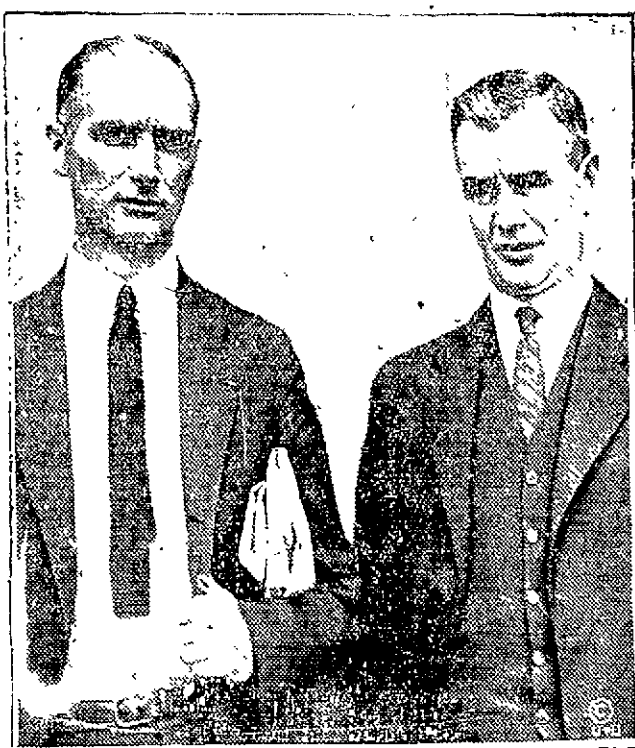

ASHLAND MAYOR FORBIDS K. K. K.'S

Says 4500 Arrests in 20 Months Make It Necessary To Avoid Other Complications

ASHLAND, Aug. 30.—Mayor Salisbury today forbade the Ku Klux Klan from holding an organization meeting in the park here tomorrow night. He said there had been 4500 arrests and police court convictions here in the last twenty months and he, faced with that situation said he would "not permit any other complications to arise if I can avoid it." He would add nothing to the statement.

"Girls' Service League" Helps Young Women Find Themselves

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Be careful of that first job, it may spell happiness and success. Too often it spells discontent and years of wasted effort.

Tucked away in the heart of New York's business district is a port for unhappy girls. It is known as the Girl's Service League. Here girls who can't get along with their parents, girls who can't get along with their bosses, girls who want to do great and beautiful things but haven't yet found themselves are taken in and sheltered, and advised and set on their way again.

And a great deal of the unhappiness arises because girls are careless in their choice of first jobs, says Miss Esther Miller, director of the league's service bureau, who every year places more than a thousand girls in positions where they can make good. "The average girl who sets out in quest of work," she explains, "decides she would like a place with the Bling Filing Company, because her chum's employed there, or maybe in the bank where her brother used to be an errand boy, or that she'd prefer a clerical job, it has such an important sound. But perhaps she isn't fitted for any of these things."

INDIANA GOVERNOR WILL PAY DEBTS

Has Resigned As Bank President—Financial Losses Due in Part to Low Cattle Market

By Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 30.—Governor Warren T. McCray, today called a meeting of his creditors here next Friday for action on the firm's reports that the governor is financially embarrassed. It is understood the governor will ask his creditors to agree to give him time to retrieve his fortunes. Placing his assets in the hands of a trustee who will operate them for the benefit of creditors is contemplated as a part of the agreement. His friends declare his financial embarrassment is due to the lowering price of farm lands and the low cattle market. They say that in a given time he will be able to avoid losses which now confront him.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 30.—Governor McCray later admitted he was financially embarrassed and issued a statement saying his assets "based on fair values," were far above his liabilities and "asking a chance to work myself out of a situation for which economic conditions are responsible."

LAD HAS MARVELOUS ESCAPE BUT REMAINS NOT LONG ON SCENE

"A guilty conscience needs no accuser," opined the Bard of Avon and the conclusion of an accident on Cumberland avenue this morning seems to corroborate the statement.

A boy, whose name does not figure in the story, was riding a bicycle along the avenue and, without noticing an approaching automobile, rode directly in front of it. He was knocked to the ground by the impact and the bicycle was badly smashed. Springing to his feet the lad ran rapidly away from the scene. In the ensuing investigation it developed that he had taken the bicycle without the permission of the owner and his haste was doubtless due to a fear that the petty crime would be discovered.

The driver of the automobile is a resident of the Rose Hill district whose name was not disclosed. Witnesses say the accident was not his fault. The bicycle was returned to the store from which it had been stolen. The boy who had the miraculous escape has not been seen on the avenue since.

MAN HELD FOR COUNTERFEITING

Shawnee Man Said To Have Made $20 Bills of $10—Caught By Secret Service

Frank McWilliams of Shawnee was arrested there yesterday on charges of counterfeiting and incarcerated in the Middlesboro jail where he will be kept until transferred to Tennessee where his trial will take place in the federal court. He is said to have passed three ten dollar bills, raised to twenties, in this vicinity. He denies the charges.

A detective of the United States Secret Service department who had been working on the case for several weeks and who has a carefully prepared chain of evidence in the form of numerous affidavits made the arrest at Shawnee yesterday afternoon. An official of a local bank and a Middlesboro taxi driver assisted in the capture.

The method he used to raise the bills is obviously that of an amateur though the work was clever enough to deceive the average person not accustomed to handling money. The detective traced the man by his habit of collecting two dollar and ten dollar bills. The former denomination is somewhat scarce and those to whom requests had been made for them remembered the man and made affidavits to that effect.

"I don't see what you want all those two's for," one woman had remarked, to which McWilliams is said to have replied "They are very useful to me." The prisoner is about twenty-five years of age and had no particular trade. He did odd jobs of painting at times and was engaged in this work when the arrest was made. He will be tried in the federal court of Tennessee. The maximum sentence for persons convicted of counterfeiting is fifteen years in the federal prison.

Nearest Correct Answer To This Question Will Win Prize in Bank Contest

A feature of the Harvest Festival which will be of interest to all visitors will be the unique guessing contest offered by the National Bank.

ELLEN MYERS NOW READY FOR SCHOOL

HARRINGTON, Aug. 30.—The working here Wednesday was a great success. At 2 o'clock, the following men and boys presented themselves at the Ellen Myers School building, ready for service: George Hill, Thomas Mann, Robert Overton, Theo. Estes, C. P. Williams, Charlie Coleman, Robert Dussett, George Day, J. R. Southern, Rev. Mr. Osborne, J. H. Rector, Prof. J. M. Moore, Oral Southern and James Overton, Jack Richmond and Pat Williams, Grant Mason, James and Joe Thompson, Elmer Bolton, Wade Garrett, Lee J. Aves, Glenn and Elgin Rice, Basil Gilbert, Ralph Poor, Fredrick, Silas and Floyd Welch, Elmer and Beatty, Ernest and John Maples, Paul and Clyde Day, Edwin Smith, Tip Coleman, Bonnie Seagraves, Claude Collinsworth.

They scrubbed floors, desks and other woodwork, moved the lawn and cleared away rubbish. They agreed that they would understand in the future what sort of work their wives and mothers had to do every week.

The women of the neighborhood came also to help when necessary, and to provide the supper of fried chicken, salad, tomatoe ears, beans, peach pickles, cucumber pickles, pies, cakes, cookies and coffee.

School is to begin on Monday morning September 3, at 9 o'clock. It is hoped that before long a good consolidated school may give to Cumberland Gap, Arthur, Harrogate, Tiprell and Shawnee the advantages of the best city schools together with the advantages that they already possess in their beautiful and healthful surroundings.

Husband's Temperament Influenced by Interior Decorations, Says Artist's Wife

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Have a cat—hold have an easy chair, a hammock for the wall paper if you would hold your husband. The quarrel you had last night may have been due solely to the large yellow poppies on the dining-room wall.

For husbands, just can't be disinterested in tasteful homes, says Mrs. Penrhyn Stanhaws, the noted artist's wife. She's setting out to prove it. Having converted an old farm house into a lovely bit of colonial beauty for her own use, and having for years "made over" her friends' homes, she's embarking on an honest-to-goodness career as interior decorator.

"Nobody can tell," she says, "the suffering golden oak living-room 'sets' have caused."

"Men may not realize it, but they're the first victims of ugly furniture, garish wall paper and glaring lights. After a hard day's work, a man has a right to a restful home. His ash tray should be at his elbow, magazines and papers on the table, he

GIRL SCOUTS FOLLOW THEIR CAMPING PROGRAM

The Red Rose and Blue Bird Troops of the Girl Scouts are now pleasantly settled for two weeks of genuine outdoor life in their camp at Fern Lake. Instead of "Wohelo" they have decided to call their camp "Dixie Myrtle." Miss Florence More, Scout Reporter, gives the reason for this and also a program of their activities in the following report:

"Owing to the Girl Scouts' choice, the camp name has been changed. Being Southern girls we decided to choose southern names. Dixie, we all know, raises our southern spirit and Myrtle, the southern flower. These being our Captain and Local Director's name and we loyal scouts, we selected the name Dixie Myrtle as most appropriate."

"Our program for daily camp is: Rising bell, 5 a. m.; Exercise and plunge, 5:15 to 5:45; prepare and cook breakfast, 6 to 6:45; breakfast, 6:45 to 7; colors, 7:05; camp made tidy, 7:15; Inspection, 7:45 to 8; swimming and free time, 8 to 9; lesson study, 9 to 10; prepare and cook dinner, 10 to 12 m.; Mess, 12 to 12:30 p. m.; kitchen tidy and inspection, 12:30 to 1; rest hour, 2 to 3; swimming, 2 to 3; games, 3 to 4:15; prepare and cook supper, 4 to 5; supper, 5; kitchen tidy, 5:40; evening colors, 5:45; prepare wood or campfire, 5:50 to 6:15; court of honor meeting, 6:15 to 6:45; games, 6:15 to 7:30; camp fire, 7:30; song and stunts, 7:30 to 8:30; tattoo bell, 8:30 to 9; taps, 9.

"Twenty girls, three officers, Grand-dad Broshier, W. C. Stair and Billy Stair were registered at Camp on Monday. Through the courtesy of Scout Master Philip Arthur and four boy scouts our tents were soon in order and ready for twenty tired girls."

"Visitors for the week so far have been: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Cleland, Mr. H. H. Saunders, Mrs. Will Cook, Rachel Cook, George Portwood, and Jim Allen."

We are sorry that Scouts Minnie Mae and Elizabeth Chandler had to go home last night. They are missed. Scouts are sorry to know of Scout Lola Smith's sorrow and hope she can soon join us, as we need her voice in the Camp Fire songs."

"Anyone interested in the betterment of womanhood is especially invited to our camp to see what our organization is teaching."

"We are here
"We are there
"We are everywhere."

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

Grapes

All sorts of delicious preserves and jellies can be made with grapes. Personally, I think there is no grape like the Concord. However, this is a matter of taste. Whatever variety of grape is at hand can be used.

Pectin (which forms jellies) is found in all fruits but is at its best when the fruit is not quite ripe. This is peculiarly true with grapes. As the grapes ripen more sugar is formed and ripe grapes are too rich in sugar to make perfect jelly. Choose fruit that is just beginning to turn to make a firm grape jelly that will be free from crystallization.

The weather has much to do with the properties of fruit. A dry, hot summer means a fruit richer in sugar than a cold, wet season. If fruit is gathered after a rain there will be more water to boil out, to obtain the pure fruit juice.

These things should be taken into consideration and allowed for in boiling the juice and the proportion of sugar used.

Grape Jelly

Wash and pick over grapes. Remove from stems and put in preserving kettle. There will probably be enough water on the fruit to prevent burning. Crush a few with a wooden potato masher and bring slowly to the boiling point, shaking the kettle to prevent sticking. When the grapes are hot crush with potato masher and simmer for thirty minutes. Put in jelly bag and let the juice drip. If a clear, sparkling jelly is desired, do not squeeze the bag. Let drip as long as there is any juice. Measure juice and put in preserving kettle. Boil gently for eight minutes and add as much sugar as there was juice. Boil five minutes and pour into sterilized jelly glasses. Cover with paraffin when cold.

Grape Conserve

Five pounds grapes, 5 pounds sugar, 1 pound raisins, 3 oranges, 1 cup chopped nut meats.

Wash grapes and remove from stems and then pulp. Cook pulps and skins separately. Put pulp through strainer to remove seeds. Add to skins with sugar juice of oranges and grated rind of one and one-half oranges and add nuts. Cook five minutes longer or until thick. Pour into sterilized jelly-glasses and cover with paraffin when cold.

Grape Relish

Four pounds grapes, 1 pound brown sugar, 3 cups vinegar, 2 teaspoons allspice, 2 teaspoons cloves, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 teaspoons nutmeg.

Wash grapes and remove from stems. Put all ingredients in preserving kettle and cook until soft, about forty-five minutes. Rub through a colander. Boil pulp until thick and pour into sterilized jelly glasses.

Spiced Grapes

Five pounds grapes, 2 1/2 pounds sugar, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 teaspoons allspice, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1 cup cider vinegar.

Pulp grapes and boil skins until tender. Cook pulp and put through strainer to remove seeds. Add to skins with sugar, spices and vinegar. Boil for ten minutes. Pour into sterilized pint jars and seal.

Dark Satins

Dark satins for immediate street wear are in demand nowadays. The models are generally simple, the only embellishments being pleats, flounces or tiers on the skirts.

Dominant Colors

Black and navy will be called for generally, this coming season, while brown will be a favorite color with many.

Twills Coming

When cooler weather sets in, twills will gain favor—especially in simple tailored designs.

Sports Coats

The new sports coats are of polo cloth and fleeces. The color is usually gray or tan, with stripes or plaids in a darker tone, or in a contrasting color.

The Tan Appears

The tan, or beige, as it is known in Paris, is being given many novel treatments. It is shown in tightly striped velvets and pannes and is embellished with chenille.

Of Interest To Mothers

The day has passed when the mother will sew for her children. The low cost of ready made garments enables her to buy clothing for her children as cheaply as she can have them made. There has been so much improvement in designing, the workmanship and the materials used in childrens ready made garments that the mother finds it well worth her time and in many instances a saving in money to buy these garments from a children's wear store.

We put an unrestricted guarantee on our LOTTA-WEAR dresses for misses and children; the same guarantee holds with our SPRAGUEMADE fast color BOYS WASH SUITS and children's rompers.

Our New Fall Wash Dresses and Boys' Wash Suits have arrived, just in time for school wear. We can help you solve your children's dress problems.

Svelte Type To Profit By Fall Styles

It is rumored that the fall silhouette most favored will be tailored—straight, narrow and fairly short. Against that is the popularity of the silhouette that is still narrow and bit bows out in the new skirt flounces around one's ankles. There's no doubt, however, that styles are being designed for the slender, since each advance fall model seems slinkier than every other.

Side fastenings and side pleats are still very fashionable. The normal waistline seems to be coming back in favor, especially with bloused frocks. In fact, just about this time of year there are many new styles. Some will survive, others will not.

It seems probable, though, that dress es of the type illustrated will enjoy a considerable vogue since they are smart without being extreme.

SINGER COMPANY AMUSEMENTS EXHIBIT WILL BE BE ATTRACTIONS FEATURE OF FAIR OF FALL FAIR

Company Will Have Special Treat On Festival Grounds—For Display And Demonstrations—Machine Given Free

Ranges From Women's Whistling Contests To Fox Races—Variety Of Physical Contests Planned

MACHINE COMPANY DOING LARGE BUSINESS HERE

One of the most attractive features of the coming Harvest Festival and one that will claim the interest of every feminine visitor will be the Singer Sewing Machine Co. demonstration and the eighty-dollar sewing machine that will be given away absolutely free on the last day of the event.

"Married women, particularly, are invited to attend this exhibit," Col. N. P. Wise, manager of the local agency, commented, "though single women will be given chances on the machine. It will be given to the holder of the lucky number and, in the event the winner desires a more expensive machine, she will be given credit for eighty dollars on it."

This is the first time that the firm has ever offered a machine on these terms and it is expected to prove one of the greatest drawing cards of the fair. It was through the efforts of Col. Wise that the company decided to donate the machine for the purpose.

Five hundred dollars worth of advertising matter, including papers of pins and other useful articles and novelties will be given away during the three days of the fair. All the advertising matter will contain useful information and will be of such a nature that visitors will want to take it home with them.

The sewing machine which will be given away will be placed in the window of the local Singer establishment within a few days with a placard indicating the manner in which it will be awarded.

To Have Special Ten The Singer Co. will have a large tent on the Festival grounds in which four experts operators from the home office will daily give demonstrations of plain and fancy sewing. This tent and the demonstration equipment that goes with it is the property of the machine company and the same exhibits and demonstrations will be offered here as have been given at some of the largest fairs in the country. It will be maintained at a great expense to the company but will aid immensely in making the affair a success. The tent will be appropriately decorated as will also the office of the firm which will be located near the fair grounds.

Col. Wise says that all who are given chances on the machine will be required to register their names and addresses and that these, forming an invaluable trade mailing lists, will be given to local merchants who are promoting the Harvest Festival.

The local Singer manager is very much interested in the coming event and will do everything possible to make it an entire success. Whether or not the exhibit with like conditions will be offered annually at the fairs here will depend on its results this year.

Large Business Here During the Festival balloons will be released which will bear cards good for valuable merchandise at the different stores. A great deal of interest in this is expected also, some lively scrambling for tickets as the balloons descend.

Prizes will also be awarded the oldest married couple, largest family and fattest man and perhaps in other cases. Many details of contests along this line have not been worked out but a complete program of the amusements will be made several days before the Festival.

The Mauring theater will have a special program for the visitors each day of the Festival, according to Mr. Brown, manager of the theater.

Daylight moving pictures will be shown on the grounds each day by a special machine and screen which Mr. Brown will bring here for the purpose. The screen will be about a yard square and will show a variety of pictures.

All things considered, it is not likely that any of the visitors will suffer from monotony or lack of amusements. This part of the Festival alone will be well worth the trip to the out-of-town residents and will be equally enjoyed by people living in Middlesboro.

APPALACHIA 16-PIECE BAND MAY BE PROCURED FOR FAIR

The broad program of entertainment will be one of the chief drawing cards of the coming Harvest Festival. With L. D. Hill as chairman of the amusement committee, assisted by other able men, indications are that a variety of diversions will be available.

Negotiations for a sixteen-piece band from Appalachia, Va., are being made. Otto Brown, member of the committee, stated yesterday, and, in all probability, use of this band will be had for the first and second days of the fair. It is one of the best bands in this section of the country and, though rather expensive, one that will please not only the visitors but also the people of Middlesboro as well.

A makeshift band could have been procured but members of the Merchants' Association contend that the very best in the way of musical entertainment is not too good for an event of such importance.

Another number on the amusement program will be an old fiddlers' contest which will be held at the Mauring theater during one evening of the contest. Among the hundreds of visitors it is expected that there will be a number of fiddlers who will take part in the program. Old pieces such as "Downfall of Paris," "Napoleon's Retreat," "Old Coon Dog" and others are expected at an event of this kind.

These old selections, classics in their line, of which we never tire, will be greatly enjoyed and will form a very substantial part of the program.

Another event which will be of great interest to a lot of men will be the fox chase. Mr. Brown says that this is being planned, that the almost forgotten sport will be revived here during the Harvest Festival.

A public exhibition which will be of interest to all will be the battle royal, staged by ten negroes, on the Festival grounds. Some wicked slugging is promised in this fight and those of sportive tendencies will be particularly interested in this part of the program.

Men of Lee and Claiborne counties will have an opportunity to see which county is the strongest physically, in the tug of war between the two counties which will take place at some time during the Festival. It is expected that the event will bring into the limelight some hitherto undiscovered Samsons. It well behooves men of each county to rally well their forces so that they may make a good showing in this contest of physical exertion.

Another contest which promises to be popular with all will be the melon-eating affair. Everybody likes to eat melons and this will be an event where by all will have a chance to manifest their prowess in this particular field.

This said that ladies cannot whistle but this old saying is in danger of being disproved in the whistling contest which will be one of the features in which the feminine visitors may take part. All women will be eligible for this contest whether they can whistle or not as no music of extraordinary quality is expected anyway.

The three-legged race and the sack race which will be for persons under sixteen years of age will be another amusing number of the program.

In the foot races, representatives from each county will take part and then the winners of each will compete. This event will be another in which the contestants will have an opportunity of upholding the honor of their county.

During the Festival balloons will be released which will bear cards good for valuable merchandise at the different stores. A great deal of interest in this is expected also, some lively scrambling for tickets as the balloons descend.

Prizes will also be awarded the oldest married couple, largest family and fattest man and perhaps in other cases. Many details of contests along this line have not been worked out but a complete program of the amusements will be made several days before the Festival.

The Mauring theater will have a special program for the visitors each day of the Festival, according to Mr. Brown, manager of the theater.

Daylight moving pictures will be shown on the grounds each day by a special machine and screen which Mr. Brown will bring here for the purpose. The screen will be about a yard square and will show a variety of pictures.

All things considered, it is not likely that any of the visitors will suffer from monotony or lack of amusements. This part of the Festival alone will be well worth the trip to the out-of-town residents and will be equally enjoyed by people living in Middlesboro.

ARRAS SPEAKS OF
KIWANIS IDEALSBoyd Ford Tells Knoxville Kiwanians
Middlesboro Is Ready For Coming Dist. Convention

"I have just returned from Middlesboro where I went over every detail of the coming convention with the executive committee, and while the time for the convention is almost a full month away, I can assure you that every little thing has been thought of and worked out," Boyd Ford, secretary told the Knoxville Kiwanians.

"The Middlesboro boys have taken particular pains to see that the comfort and pleasure of the visitors be taken into first consideration and the entire club is ready to greet your delegation with an open armed welcome, sure of making you realize that their particular brand of hospitality is genuine."

"Of course the features of the convention are numerous, but the outstanding feature will no doubt be the address by Mr. Arras, our international president, who will be with us for the two days."

Edwin F. Arras, president of Kiwanis Club International, makes the following statement in regard to the ideals of the Kiwanians:

"It is not unique these days, to read statements that the world is still shocked and jazz-struck, or that this country is threatened with 'insidious revolution.' The literature and platform are so broadcasting the perils of the hour blues and class legislation.

that one feels bewildered by pessimism even though he lives in a nation more blessed with material assets than any other. What we need is not greater alarm but greater appreciation of the complexity of human relationships. "The world calls for devotion to service for others, and the enthusiasm of sacrifice. Kiwanis is the practical manifestation of these. Its spirit is one of utilitarian idealism. Kiwanis points to the application of the Golden Rule as the answer to all manner of

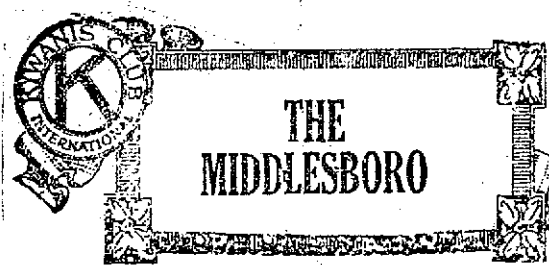

"The idealism of Kiwanis is that which makes the customer as liberal as he expects the merchant to be a voter, as loyal and patriotic as the official swears to be, and the mechanic as honest in his service as he is prompt in demanding his compensation."

Too many years I've Watched this man who Lame and twisted in his Limbs, has pushed each

Day a cart about the City streets and gathered
Scraps of things that he Might sell and thus
Maintain a livelihood
He's gone about his work
As though he were
Not tired nor sick
Has done his part in Life with no complaint
About his daily sufferings
It seems to me that
He has taught a lesson
Big folks who whine

And fret because of
Trivial things not theirs
And if I had a gift
To give it seems to me
There would be no better
Place to send an offering
Brighter than to this Man who's uncomplaining
Gone his way and asked
No one for alms though
Wearily at eventide I've Seen him push his
Empty cart back home.—Nell H.

INTERNATIONAL
SECRETARY IS A
VERSATILE MANFred C. W. Parker Who Will Be
Prominent Visitor At District
Convention Is Man Superior
Education and TrainingSECRETARY IS EXECUTIVE OF BROAD EXPERIENCE

Fred C. W. Parker international secretary of the Kiwanis club has gained an enviable reputation, not only in Kiwanis but in the organization field as a man of forceful ability and wide interests. Mr. Parker will be present at the district convention here next month.

He has been engaged in organization work for many years, having been secretary of the great Central Y. M. C. A. of Chicago for ten years, and one of the original industrial relations group in and around Chicago for whom he has long acted as secretary. He was recently secretary and member of the board of directors of the Industrial Relations Association of America, now the American Management Association. Mr. Parker's leadership also extends to educational and religious matters. He was a former vice-president of the Vocational Education Association of the Middle West and at present is a member of the school board of Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago. He is a member of the Religious Education Association and an officer of the Oak Park Baptist church. He maintains a keen interest in many lines of service work and is active in the City Club of Chicago and the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Even in his education, Mr. Parker enjoyed a diversity of institutions which have contributed distinctly to his breadth of interest and sympathy. He attended Colgate Academy and Colgate University; was graduated from Brown University and took some four years of graduate work at the University of Chicago. He was actively identified with student activities and specialized in athletics as tackle of football teams at both Colgate and Brown Universities. He is a member of the college fraternity, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and was honored for proficiency in scholarship by membership in Phi Beta Kappa. "Colonel" Parker was always "on the job" in college as he is in Kiwanis.

It is particularly fortunate that Kiwanis should have at its helm a man such as Mr. Parker who has given his time and thought, for so many years, to guiding complex organizations, and who has lived and worked in all sections of the United States, thus broadening his ability to give to Kiwanis the peculiar type of leadership needed at this time.

He began his work in Kiwanis at a time when the organization's greatest problems, incidental to crystallization after expansion, were beginning to loom upon the horizon. Therefore the problems with which he was faced in the early part of his service were by no means simple or few. Kiwanis was fortunate to have had as International Secretary a man of his broad experience, good judgment, and poised administrative ability, when those qualities were so necessary in stabilizing Kiwanis, that it might continue its progress with the highest of standards and ideals. A survey in retrospect of Kiwanis accomplishments during the past two years testifies to how well he has discharged his responsibilities as international secretary.

Mr. Parker's hobbies are his fine family—a wife of proved abilities and a quartet of interesting children—good music, baseball, and industrial relations, in which work he is a recognized leader. He has been known to play golf.

We heartily welcome him to Middlesboro, having done so much for Kiwanis in moulding the organization in to a great, cohesive, constructive force for good.
